

Sugarmummy

Shanju Shanej by miki chambiki

I'm no more his sugar mummy he just ran away
without a word to say.
Lonely, do you know it feels to be lonesome having meals you feel useless and alone dispensable the time that passes off at home.

He's no more my honey bunny hard to let him go did I hug him to intensely set his feelings low.
Does he think also about me or just live released and free will he ever be back a nightmare in the daylight is to see that crack.

Sadly my lil' honey bunny
to whom should I say bunny bunny come to your ma, to me.
I wish for a cuddly teddy bear, who's always close and near, who'd never run away
who'd ever 'n' always stay with me for eternity.
